

CITY_DESCRIZIONE GENERALE DEL MODELLO

DESIGN BY ROSSI&CO

City is a universe of vintage inspirations: its retro styling makes clever use of traditional materials by interpreting them in a modern key. The most obvious example of this – and a distinctive feature of this model – is the framed, wood panel door, which assumes a creative, unconventional style in Stosa City kitchens. Robust and decisive in appearance, these generous kitchens offer unique tactile and visual sensations thanks to their textured wood effect and PET finishes. The collection is constantly evolving to include different styles, each representing a new way to experience the kitchen.

City's stylistic power derives from the many references to the past that define its personality and give it endless fascination. Compositions adapt easily to different kitchen layouts, giving maximum comfort and blending functionality with style whatever the space.

A unique mix of materials makes this model a favourite with refined customers who appreciate the value of advanced furnishing solutions and demand a personalised home experience.

With City, the kitchen becomes the centre of daily life, a space for work, fun, conviviality and relaxation. The authentic City ambience is based on original finishes and combinations and enriched by functional solutions that integrate perfectly with the collection's form and beauty. New internal equipment, space-saving solutions and variations in volume: everything contributes to making the City kitchen a unique and personal space.
