

PALIO_general model description_NEW
DESIGN BY MAMA STUDIO

The new Palio kitchen from Stosa, unveiled at the Eurocucina 2024 trade fair, represents the pinnacle of innovation in the world of furnishings: indeed, this model combines the ancient tradition of woodworking with a design featuring modern lines, creating the perfect balance between warmth and modernity.

The versatility of the Palio model enables it to adapt perfectly to any space, allowing optimal use of the environment and integrating perfectly with models from the Evolution line. Palio is highly modular, allowing peninsula, island or linear configurations, and the various compositions can be supplemented with various accessories, including the functional Linea wall panelling, the convenient snack worktop with telescopic leg, open modules or stylish glass doors for wall units and tall units.

The warmth of oak or ash wood and the various different lacquered matte colours further add to the wide range of finishes that can be applied to smooth, thermo-structured or framed doors. The worktops are embellished with coverings in Neolith® - an elegant and durable sintered stone made from 100% natural raw materials - that evoke the aesthetics of natural stone and the timeless effect of precious marble, which can also be used to create a worktop for sink and hob from a single piece of material.

Palio is designed for those looking for an environment that is the embodiment of unrivalled good taste, capable of bringing the charm of tradition together with the functionality and elegance of modern lines in perfect harmony.
